

Esprinet Group focuses on sustainability with ESPRecycle, the service that simplifies office waste management

Vimercate (Monza Brianza), 22 October 2025 – Esprinet Group, leader in Southern Europe in advisory services, sale and rental of technological products and IT security, is expanding its offering with ESPRecycle, a new service dedicated to sustainable office waste management, designed to support retailers and businesses in the proper disposal and recycling of materials.

The initiative comes at a time when responsible corporate waste management has become an integral part of sustainability strategies. Technological evolution is accelerating the renewal of equipment and tools, and more and more companies are looking for reliable solutions to manage discarded materials in a safe, traceable, and compliant manner. In this scenario, Esprinet introduces a concrete and structured response, capable of combining operational simplicity and respect for the environment.

With ESPRecycle, the Group provides a comprehensive service that coordinates the entire waste management process—from material collection to document reporting—using qualified operators and certified partners. The goal is to simplify an activity that is often complex, providing companies with an efficient, safe, and fully sustainable disposal model.

With ESPRecycle, we want to make it easier for companies and our partners to adopt sustainable practices in office waste management - comments Giovanni Testa, Chief Operating Officer of the Esprinet Group - Our ambition is to integrate sustainability into everyday business processes, transforming what is often perceived as an obligation into an opportunity to generate value and strengthen trust in the supply chain”.

The service allows for the certified and transparent management of all main types of office waste—from IT equipment to furniture and consumables—with the option of integrating additional services such as the destruction of sensitive data, the fiscal scrapping of discarded assets, and the complete decommissioning of entire company sites.

An initiative that translates the Group's focus on the environment into a concrete service, designed to make environmental responsibility easier and more accessible in the daily lives of companies. entire company sites.
